Investment Professionals

Tamarix's investment professionals have extensive experience investing in the lower-middle-market.

We have decades of experience partnering with entrepreneurs and management teams to create value in their operations. In addition, we have worked with lower-middle-market businesses across a variety of industries and business cycles, and we understand the key drivers of value for these businesses.

We also have an extensive network of partners and contacts that strengthens our ability to create value in our portfolio companies and provides us with access to deal flow.
